David Zach, futurist

www.davidzach.com

+1 414 278 0414

David Zach speaks about fads, trends & principles — and defining the strategic choices between change & tradition. He tells funny stories of new and fascinating trends & tools and of old and fascinating ideas & ideals to help put the future in its place. He's definitely not the futurist you would expect, but he is the one you will remember.

When planning your next meeting, hire a speaker who can bring laughter and tears, vivid conversations and quiet reflection, and even phone calls back home, "You should have heard this futurist we had today . . ."

Give him a call to talk about the future of your meetings.

If your special friend, colleague or family member likes Birthday Surprises, then an Education By Entertainment recognition event would be perfect for them.

Why not schedule one as a birthday surprise?

The highly interactive TV game show style programs are primarily educational, but they are also a Ton of Fun!!! More fun than a typical party... More useful learning takes place than in a traditional class.

All ages are welcome, though the program would be most meaningful for students in Grade 5 and up (including adults).

Lots of great photo opportunities, too!!!

I hope to hear from you soon about scheduling a program for you.

I ♥ Ron

NO ONE CARES ABOUT YOUR BORING BUSINESS.

1A

They care about themselves. Yet most marketing boils down to a blatant sales pitch, punctuated by a boastful, long-winded description of the product or service. Blah. Blah. Blah. If you want to stand out and get better results, be different. Talk about them, not you.
